Flushing Bombed
To Aid Canadians

LONDON (CP)—R.A.F. Lancasters today blasted German installations at Wiltsingen (Flushing) on Walcheren Island, Holland, while Italian-based U.S. heavyweights bombed the Gyor and Szombathely rail yards in northwestern Hungary in an operation co-ordinated with the Russian army.

New Spanish Attacks

PARIS (AP)—Socialist and Communist newspapers here today reported a new series of attacks by Spanish Republican forces on garrisons and convoys of Gen. Franco's Spanish regime. The Republicans were estimated to number 20,000 in the region of Lerida.

'Bluff' Say Japs
Of Philippines

NEW YORK (AP)—The Allied landings in the Philippines were termed nothing more than "a bluff" by Sadao Iguchi, spokesman for the Japanese information board, in a propaganda radio broadcast to the Filipino people today.

Another propaganda broadcast from Tokyo said the invasion of Leyte Island was of "no strategic consequence from the standpoint of general defence operations."

Need 500 Loggers

REGINA (CP)—Saskatchewan farm labor officials said today at least 500 harvesters from eastern Canada are wanted for temporary employment in British Columbia logging camps and saw-mills.

Yugoslav King
Lauds Russ, Tito

LONDON (CP)—Young King Peter of Yugoslavia congratulated the Soviet Army and the forces of Marshal Tito today on the liberation of Belgrade.

In a speech addressed to the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, broadcast to Yugoslavia by the BBC, the king predicted the re-appearance of a "new, free, democratic and federal Yugoslavia" in the near future.

Vancouver Opens
7th Loan Drive

VANCOUVER (CP)—Thousands of Vancouver citizens lined downtown streets today to witness a parade of servicemen and the latest military equipment as feature of the launching of Canada's 7th Victory Loan drive.

Other features were the launching of two 10,000-ton ships at Vancouver yards and a ceremony at the Bond Shell in the downtown area.

Navy Recruiting Cut

OTTAWA (CP)—The navy has reduced its intake of recruits to 500 men a month from the 2,000 men it was recruiting each month last spring, the Defence Department said today.

This, coupled with the suspension of R.C.A.F. recruiting, leaves the field clear for the army, which has a drive for 5,000 recruits monthly.

About half the army quota is being filled by volunteers and the other half by men called up for compulsory service.

Drumhead Service
Sunday For Loan

Victoria's 7th Victory Loan campaign will be officially opened Sunday afternoon at 3 with a drumhead service in Beacon Hill Park. The service will take place in the natural amphitheatre formed by the football field.

Picked men from the navy, army and air force will participate in the service, and the salute will be taken by Lieut.-Governor W. C. Woodward, as well as of officers commanding the three forces.

Canon Michael Coleman will give the dedication sermon, and well-known hymns will be played by army, navy and air force bands.

In the event that weather is bad, the cancellation of the service will be announced over station CJVI at 12:30 p.m. Canon Coleman's address will be broadcast at 3 p.m. in any event.

Gain in Burma

KANDY, Ceylon (CP)—In northern Burma strong combat patrols of the British 36th Division late Thursday occupied Mohayin, railway town 10 miles south of Hopin and about 80 miles southwest of Myitkyna. It was announced today.

Canadians Push
Toward Breda;
Take Wuestwezel

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON (AP)—The 1st Canadian Army, slugging methodically through rain-soaked fields and thickets north of Antwerp, pushed its three-pronged offensive four miles nearer Roosendaal and Breda today, while U.S. troops hunted down remnants of the German garrison in the outskirts of captured Aachen.

British Infantry and Canadian tanks entered the road junction of Wuestwezel, 12 miles north and slightly east of Antwerp on the Antwerp-Breda highway, and sent patrols probing out a mile or two northwest of the town. Two other columns, in twin drives along the roads to Roosendaal, seized Calmpouth and neared the Roosendaal Canal.

This offensive was the second phase of the battle to win use of Antwerp port as a supply base. The first phase was drawing to an end west of Antwerp, with Canadians steadily closing in on the German pocket around Breskens, south of the Schelde estuary.

In eastern Holland, U.S. forces pushed within 4,000 yards of a German communications strong-point near the Maas River. British 2nd Army troops meanwhile consolidated positions southeast of Venray on the Netherlands battlefield.

AACHEN YIELDS

Eight hundred German troops, the last defenders of wasted Aachen, surrendered unconditionally at noon and all resistance ended inside and in the suburbs of this first big German city to fall into Allied hands.

Two thousand prisoners already had been taken by U.S. 1st Army men who captured the mediaeval city 40 miles west of Cologne.

German communications farther south were crippled when fighter-bombers operating with the U.S. 3rd Army bombed and breached the Dietze Dam, 25 miles northeast of Nancy, flooding the town of Dieuze and the surrounding countryside with a spreading shallow lake which covered the railroads and highways with two feet of water.

The mopping up of Aachen was carried out by U.S. 1st Army troops preparing for a further drive toward the Rhine.

The Canadian forces were seven miles southeast of the Netherlands town of Bergen op Zoom and its excellent harbor midway between Antwerp and Rotterdam.

Tail of Southern Storm
May Hit Nova Scotia

HALIFAX (CP)—A tropical hurricane which has caused heavy damage in Cuba and Florida, is expected by weather bureau authorities to strike Nova Scotia today. If the storm hits Nova Scotia the winds are not expected to exceed 35 or 40 miles an hour.

An A.P. dispatch from Cuba today said the known death toll in Cuba reached 43 today, and officials said more than 100 persons might have been killed by the winds of up to 160-miles-per-hour force which swept the island three days ago. More than 1,000 persons were injured.

For the Boys Over There

For the boys of the 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish, whom Ross Munro, Canadian war-correspondent, has reported in the fierce Leopold Canal battles, Times Scottish Comforts Fund makes its appeal. Christmas parcels numbering 864 purchased with subscriptions to the fund are now on their way to the battlefields.

Province Buys $7,000,000 Victory Bonds

Premier John Hart is seen above in his office in the Parliament Buildings at 10 this morning as he signs the Province of British Columbia's application to purchase $7,000,000 worth of Victory Bonds for the 7th War Loan campaign which officially opens Monday. Looking on are (left to right): Senator G. H. Barnard, chairman of the special names division of the National War Finance Committee; A. T. Goward and F. E. Winslow, vice-chairmen of the National War Finance Division No. 9. In making the announcement today Premier Hart explained that the Workmen's Compensation Fund is investing $2,000,000 of the $7,000,000 and the province the remaining $5,000,000. He also stated that at the present time the government of British Columbia holds $50,000,000 in Victory Bonds, purchased in the seven loan campaigns. The Premier, after signing the orders, expressed the hope that British Columbians would not only give the same support to the 7th Loan as they have given in past loans, but would redouble their efforts in order to meet the increased quota that has been made necessary by the increased demands for war material, due to the offensive undertaken in Europe and the South Pacific.

Moscow Praises
Churchill-Stalin
Parley Results

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow's press gave the Churchill-Stalin negotiations profuse praise today, vividly mirroring the good which official Russia believes resulted from the long, numerous and friendly discussions of the two leaders.

Editorials said differences still existed between Great Britain and the Soviet Union on certain European questions but asserted the road appeared clear towards framing a peace.

A joint communique said the two leaders had made "important progress" toward settling the Polish dispute, reached an agreement on remaining points in the Bulgarian armistice terms and that their governments had decided to pursue a joint policy in Yugoslavia. Military plans for the war also were reviewed.

Agreements at the conference were said to have the full approval of the U.S. government, represented by Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Long Distance Ship-Launching
Marks 7th Victory Loan Opening

OTTAWA (CP)—Nine ships bound for the high seas and the combat lanes were launched today on instructions broadcast from Parliament Hill as Prime Minister King and Shirley Temple, young Hollywood actress, together with cabinet ministers and returned fighting men, attended a ceremony prior to the opening of the Seventh Victory Loan Monday.

The young veterans, back from the battlefronts and using telephones, assigned relatives or sweethearts to launch the nine war and supply ships on ways across Canada—ships possibly destined for service in the Pacific.

FROM ALL PROVINCES

The ceremony began at noon as the campaign to raise $1,300,000,000 in the Seventh Loan began, $100,000,000 more than the minimum of the Sixth Loan, which rose to more than $1,407,576,650.

The nine veterans, representing all three services and the nine provinces, were welcomed back to Canada by Shirley Temple, speaking on behalf of the Dominion's school boys and girls.

Sqdn. Ldr. Henry Tilson of Vancouver instructed his sister, Hanna, to launch a 10,000-ton cargo ship at a Vancouver shipyard, and her reply was heard by the crowd gathered on the green plaza before the Parliament Buildings.

In his address, Prime Minister

King offered the example of the returned veterans "as a fresh source of inspiration" for a successful Victory Loan campaign. Motioning to the nine repatriates participating in the unique long-distance ship launching ceremony, Mr. King declared:

"Their duties which have been far more onerous than any of ours," are already done. Let us honor them not only in the ceremony of the day, but in our answer to the challenge of the 7th Victory Loan."

Finance Minister Tisley said he knew the nine veterans would want to "warn Canadians against the expectation of a quick and easy conclusion to the European struggle."

The loan itself has already been launched among the members of the armed forces overseas and civilians will start subscribing in a three-week campaign, beginning Monday.

Christmas Parcels
For Troops Burned

MONTREAL (CP)—Christmas parcels for Canadian servicemen overseas were "heavily" damaged Friday night when fire of unknown origin broke out aboard a ship here. The vessel, anchored in the harbor, is intact.

Naples Transformation

ROME (AP)—The wrecked harbor of Naples—cluttered with sunken hulls and littered with debris when Allied troops entered the city Oct. 3, 1943—was converted in three months to handle "a daily average of cargo which from the point of view of volume, made it the greatest port in the world, the Allied naval command announced today. So far this year 3,700 merchant ships have sailed from Naples.

Largest Convoy
In History Crosses
Atlantic in Safety

LONDON (CP)—The largest ocean convoy in history—167 ships carrying more than 1,000,000 tons of food and war equipment and covering an area of nearly 26 square miles—recently arrived from North America without loss, A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, said today.

Royal Canadian navy vessels, commanded by Cmdr. G. H. Stephen in the frigate Dunver, escorted the convoy, which took 17 days to cross the Atlantic.

More than 35,000 tons of shipping have been conveyed since the war began across "that grey battleground," Mr. Alexander said.

TO WIN IN PACIFIC

Turning to the Pacific war, the First Lord said: "We hope to place in the Pacific a fleet capable in itself of fighting a general action with the Japanese navy. . . . The movement of at least a part of the vast fleet and its mighty attendant train is already under way."

Horthy in Berlin

LONDON (AP)—Admiral Nicholas Horthy, former Hungarian Regent, is in Germany, Berlin's Transocean news agency declared today.

A dispatch of the German News Agency D.N.B. said Horthy left Budapest in a special plane, accompanied by his family and by Lt. Field Marshal Vattay, former chief of the military chancellery, and Maj.-Gen. Brunsak.

Horthy's government fell and gave way to a more pro-German regime after he had addressed an appeal for an armistice to the Allied governments last Sunday.

70 Known Dead
In Cleveland Fire;
168 Others Missing

CLEVELAND (AP)—The death toll climbed hourly today in the worst conflagration in Cleveland's history, an explosion punctuated blaze that devastated an east side area one half mile square.

The list of known dead mounted to 70 as scores of emergency crews searched the gaunt remnants of hundreds of homes for victims trapped after a series of blasts had destroyed the East Ohio Gas Company's $6,000,000 liquid gas storage plant at the foot of East 62nd Street. The latest official figure on missing persons was 168.

Chairman Stanley Orr of the Cleveland Red Cross unit, in a message to Washington Red Cross headquarters, expressed fear fatalities might reach 200. Coroner S. R. Gerber said it was "virtually impossible" to estimate the number of persons not accounted for.

FIRE STILL BURNS

Witnesses said the fire still flared in isolated spots over a 50-block district at 11 a.m., E.D.T., but was under control.

An estimated 3,600 persons were made homeless by flames cascading after blasts which sent tongues of fire towering to a height of 2,800 feet. Possibly 10,000 others were evacuated from yet-undamaged homes because of utilities being disrupted and the danger of further blasts.

Fire Chief James E. Granger estimated damage at "between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000," but added the estimate probably would be revised upwards. He said the blaze might continue most of today.

Crowds Greet F.D.R.
In New York City

NEW YORK (AP)—President Roosevelt—traveling in the twin role of commander-in-chief of U.S. armed forces, and candidate for office—brought the fourth term campaign into New York City today for a round of military inspections and political appearances.

He visited the Brooklyn Navy Yard and other war installations, but he was dressed for campaigning, an old felt hat and his favorite navy cape.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia estimated 16,000 persons braved a drizzle to attend a rally at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn, and commented "it must be affection to come out in this weather." The seating capacity of the park is 32,000.

Tonight Mr. Roosevelt will go on the air. This major address of the campaign will begin at 6:30 p.m., P.D.T., and the President is expected to speak for most of the 45 minutes arranged for with the networks.

Iran Turns Down
Oil Bid By Big 3

TEHERAN (AP)—Iran has rejected British, U.S. and Soviet proposals for oil concessions and has postponed further discussions until after the war, it was disclosed here.

Since January, 1944, Premier Mohammed Saad explained to the foreign press, "American and British oil companies individually approached the Iran government to obtain the same petroleum concession in the southeast Persian region of Baluchistan." He said members of the Iranian Parliament attacked the government for wishing to grant a concession, and added: "A government crisis occurred and one of the causes of the fall of the former government was the petroleum question."

The Soviet government's proposals were reported made two weeks after the government had decided Sept. 2 to postpone the question.

Jap Defenders
Of Philippines
Fail to Attack

By C. YATES McDANIEL

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines (AP)—The fall of two Japanese airfields appeared imminent today as well-supplied United States troops, backed by overwhelming naval and air might, drove inland on all sectors at Leyte in the central Philippines on the second day of the invasion.

The 6,000-foot bomber field at Tacloban on the northeast was approached by one force. To the south, another force was on the outskirts of an airfield near Dulag.

(Meanwhile, the New Delhi radio reported today that Tacloban, capital of Leyte Island, had fallen to U.S. forces.)

Japan's 16th Division, remembered for its torture of the Americans and Filipinos who surrendered at Bataan, had succeeded nowhere in mastering a large-scale counterattack.

FLYING ARTILLERY

Pending the seizure and utilization of land air bases, U.S. planes from escort carriers swooped as flying artillery on the estimated 20,000 Japanese defenders of Leyte, blowing up pillboxes and spawning death among motor convoys.

The enemy air force managed two scattered night raids against small units of the 600-ship convoy. A communique today acknowledged a torpedo hit on one vessel of undesignated size.

Ground forces, under immediate command of Lt.-Gen. Walter Krueger, apparently encountered their most tenacious opposition just south of Canabato Bay at Palo.

Murlin Spencer, Associated press war correspondent, said the 600-ship convoy carried at least as many as, and perhaps more than, the number of men landed on D-Day in Normandy.

(Inasmuch as Prime Minister Churchill has disclosed that nearly 250,000 men landed in France the first day, such a sizable force for the Philippines operation might well suggest that even greater operations, with more landings on other islands, are in the offing against the estimated 225,000 Japanese defending the Philippines.)

CALL TO FILIPINOS

President Sergio Osmena, standing on the soil of his homeland today issued a stirring call to all Filipinos to rise and fight the Japanese invaders whenever the tide of battle reached their area.

The proclamation wasn't interpreted as calling for a general uprising throughout the islands, but where U.S. forces had advanced sufficiently to give immediate military help.

JAPANESE CLAIMS

NEW YORK—NBC said today the Tokyo radio had broadcast a report that the invasion of Leyte Island had cost the U.S. six aircraft carriers and six battleships.

The enemy declaration was entirely unconfirmed. Dispatches from the scene told of a torpedo hit on one vessel and light damage to some landing craft.

Gas Drum Blast Kills
Lake Cowichan Engineer

Thomas Roberts of Rounda Logging Co. in the Cowichan Lake area, was killed instantly by an oil drum explosion Friday night, provincial police headquarters here reported today. It was believed Roberts intended using the drum for a heater, and the blast was touched off when he kindled a fire in it. He leaves a wife and two children in Vancouver.

Another Robomb Attack

LONDON (CP)—The Germans directed flying bombs at southern England and the London area early today.

Generals Known Here Command Divisions Under Gen. Crerar

By ROSS MUNRO

MAJ-GEN. C. FOULKES

MAJ-GEN. H. FOSTER

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY (CP)—Maj-Gen. Charles Foulkes of London, Ont., and Victoria, and Maj-Gen. Harry Foster of Montreal are commanding formations in the 1st Canadian Army, it was permitted to disclose today.

Permission also was given to state that Brig. Basil Wedd of Toronto is the senior Canadian civil affairs officer with the Canadian Army.

(Presumably Gen. Foulkes and Gen. Foster are in command of divisions, although the dispatch did not say so specifically. (It was announced in Ottawa last January that Gen. Foulkes, 41, had been appointed to command a Canadian division overseas.)

Gen. Foulkes has taken an active part in this campaign since the fighting at Caen during the summer, leading a formation across northern France and Belgium into Holland. He is a permanent force officer who went to England in 1939 with the 1st Canadian Division as a brigade major.

He held several other staff appointments, commanded a brigade and from April, 1943, until the end of the year was brigadier on the general staff of Army Headquarters in England.

Gen. Foulkes is English by birth. His family resides in Victoria (at the Glenfield Hotel). Gen. Foster also is a permanent force officer, and in England commanded the 8th Reconnaissance Regiment, later taking over an infantry brigade. He returned to Canada to lead the Canadian force which went to Kiska. Then he returned to England to take command of a western brigade of the 3rd Canadian Division.

He led it during the assault at Courseulles-sur-Mer on the Normandy beaches, and was the brigadier Field Marshal Montgomery, 21st Army Group commander, singled out for special praise for the stand Gen. Foster's brigade made at Breteville, and on the Caen-Bayeux highway during the first week of the Normandy campaign.

Farmers Want to Ship Cattle to U.S.

TORONTO (CP)—Livestock interests represented by the Toronto Livestock Exchange are again appealing to the government at Ottawa to lift the embargo against shipments to the United States as the only course by which the accumulation in the country can be cleared out without the producers suffering heavy loss.

Following a meeting of the exchange committee today the exchange sent the following telegram to Agriculture Minister Gardner: "Ontario farmers greatly incensed over present conditions. Cannot immediate steps be taken quickly to permit Canadian cattle exports to United States? Over 2,000 cattle unsold on Toronto market and hundreds of farmers now pressed between congested markets and immediate winter weather forcing movement of cattle. Only quick action will avert heavy losses to Canadian farmers. Would also assist our war ally."

It was disclosed at the market that the better quality of cattle have moved out to packers and butchers at a normal rate, but

Uniforms similar to those worn by the mounties will be worn by the young hero worshippers of the famous force and the mounties will conduct activities which will contribute to the building of solid citizens. Thirty per cent of the U.S. Army today are high school graduates, as compared with 4 per cent in the last war. WOMEN IN INDUSTRY problem seems to be adjusting itself, at least partially. Of women laid off from a New Westminster plant only one-third sought other war jobs. One-third are on unemployment insurance and haven't made up their minds what they want to do. The other third, feeling their need in industry is over, are going back to their homes and families. A similar report was made at Ottawa at a meeting of women N.S.S. supervisors.

BACK IN B.C. from a car dealers conference in Montreal, Charles E. Thompson reports arrangements have been completed for dealers to get army vehicles of civilian type to sell after the war. There are no prospects of fantastic dream cars after the war, he says. Plastic hasn't been found a substitute for metal and there will be no radical changes in the postwar models. Development of a small general utility car, smaller than anything yet on the market, is in the discussion stage.

Victoria Nature Walks

By ROBERT CONNELL
NUT TREES ON CITY STREETS

YOU can hardly go very far on our sidewalks these days without coming across nuts of some kind or another. The Garry oaks were still allowed to grow in gardens or on vacant lots shower the ground below with their acorns. Sometimes we find attached the rough cups, singly or in twos or threes, but more usually the brown acorn alone is seen, soon to be trodden under foot on the sidewalk or crushed by cars on the street. Only a few falling on soil or in the grass succeed in germinating. And out of the few successful ones but a very small number reach the girth of stature of trees. The acorn of the English oak is more slender and the cup much less rough.

But it is under the horse-chestnuts we find the most conspicuous display of nuts. I never see a schoolboy stopping to pick them up but I find myself back in thought a good many years ago, engaged in the same delightful employment, selecting from the shining brown nuts the darkest; their destiny to be bored and strung singly on a stout cord and when seasoned a little to be the instruments of an autumn game called "Conquerors."

FROM BRITISH ISLES

With what pride was displayed some almost black and much wrinkled warrior! I suppose such a game goes back to the days when the horse-chestnuts first became familiar in the British Isles where it was introduced early in the seventeenth century.

The outer skin of the nut is usually covered with stout prickles but often these are quite absent. The horse-chestnut came by way of France and Italy and probably from India. Hooker tells of seeing a white-flowered species in the Himalayas. In the south of Europe cattle and sheep are said to feed on the nuts as pigs used to do in the oak and beech forests in the days of "Ivanhoe."

The sweet chestnut is much rarer along our streets than the horse-chestnut; in fact I am not aware that it occurs at all as a boulevard tree. At any rate I have seen none in private gardens. Its most striking characteristic is its foliage which differs entirely from that of the horse-chestnut. Instead of the radiating leaflets of the latter the sweet chestnut has simple individual leaves, conspicuously ribbed, each rib terminating at the margin of the leaf in a short spine. Leaves are dark green and glossy, lance-shaped and terminating in a slender point. The staminate catkins are long and slender, appearing about midsummer, the pistillate flowers are small and inconspicuous. The nuts are in twos or threes, of a dark shining brown, pointed at the top and terminated by the stiff styles, and enclosed in a notably prickly bur.

Sweet chestnut is believed to have been introduced into England by the Romans. At any rate that it came across the Channel at a very early date is shown by the ancient specimens known. One at Tortworth in Gloucestershire was 52 feet in circumference in the middle of last century and was said to have been so great a tree in the first half of the twelfth century that it was commonly known as the Great Chestnut of Tortworth.

Roasted chestnuts were once popular fare and were cooked and sold on the streets as pop-corn is now. Winter-night parties were frequently marked by them and in Burns' "Hallowe'en" we hear how "the auld guidwife's" hearth-hoarded nuts are burnt by lads and lassies in pairs, and as the nuts keep together or fly apart the lovers' fates are supposedly decided. I fear our chestnuts locally are too empty for either roasting or burning. The walnut however is successfully grown here and in passing under its great branches these days you may see the green nuts peeping out from among the large pinnate leaves. This walnut is also a Roman introduction into the British Isles. There trees 60 feet high and six feet in diameter have been known. The pickled green nut and the ripened one are both well-known additions to the table.

Capt. Ian M. Grant Wins D.S.O. in Italy

Capt. Ian Macdonald Grant, serving with the 12th Canadian Armored Corps on the Northern Italian front, has been awarded the D.S.C. for gallantry in action. He is the son of Mrs. Lesley M. L. Grant, 543 Linden Avenue, and the late John Grant. It is assumed Capt. Grant won his decoration while fighting in the advance toward Rimini. He was recently in command of East Indian Gurkha units attached to the British 8th Army in the Adriatic sector. Born in Victoria 24 years ago, Capt. Grant received his education at Sir James Douglas and Victoria High Schools and graduated from U.B.C. He was 20 when he joined the D.C.O.R. here, proceeded overseas with that unit two years ago, and has since seen action in North Africa and throughout the Sicilian and Italian campaigns.

P.O. George C. Moon, D.S.M., of H.M.C.S. Haida, who has seen a good deal of action overseas during the past year and a half, is spending leave with his wife and two daughters, Sharon and Heather, at their home on Rowan Street, Mount Tolmie. Moon was awarded the D.S.M. for gallantry in action against German destroyers when H.M.C.S. Athabaskan was sunk off the French coast, and aided considerably in rescuing survivors. He has been with the Haida since October, 1943. From April to August last year, in six actions, in which the flotilla was credited with the destruction of three enemy destroyers and other vessels. It was this flotilla which wiped out a German convoy attempting to escape from Lorient, French base of the Nazi submarine nests. The ships participating in these sweeps be-

Cruiser Added to Canada's Navy; Commissioned

A UNITED STATES NAVY YARD (CP)—Hon. Leighton McCarthy, Canadian ambassador to the U.S., in a speech today at the commissioning of Canada's first cruiser of this war—the Uganda—said this Trafalgar Day was a fitting anniversary on which to mark "the attainment of another milestone in the growth and stature" of the Canadian navy.

He spoke of the navy's growth—"nearly fifty-fold"—and said Canadian seamen could now "look forward to the waters of the south Pacific, or wherever the exigencies of war against Japan may lead them." In the Atlantic in recent months the Canadian navy had "carried the whole burden almost single handed."

He accepted the modern warship from the British government and told of the navy's debt to Britain, "whose unstinted help and guidance and co-operation made much of our progress possible."

He spoke of the ship's Empire link with the Uganda protectorate, which had equipped her, and the Tyneside, which had built her.

"Small ships, the fast, hard-hitting destroyer, the deadly frigate, the ubiquitous and sturdy corvette, the life-saving and courageous minesweeper, and all the sisterhood of fighting craft whose forte is dirty work at sea," had made up the navy, he said, but now a modern cruiser was added.

The Uganda was obtained from Britain under reverse lend-lease.

Nicobar Islands Shelled By Warships

KANDY, Ceylon (CP)—The British Navy's Eastern Fleet bombarded the Nicobar Islands in the Bay of Bengal during this week, it was announced in today's Southeast Asia Command headquarters communique.

The Tokyo radio previously had reported the bombardments. The Nicobar Islands lie to the northwest of Sumatra Island and Singapore, the great British naval base which fell to the Japanese in February, 1942. The attacks started Tuesday with a bombardment of Car Nicobar. This was synchronized with an attack on Nancowry Harbor which lasted two and a half hours.

At Nancowry, one medium-sized ship was sunk and some small ships damaged. The operations were repeated later. The enemy was not prepared for the first attack and there was no resistance, the communique said, but in the second strike the aircraft were intercepted by Japanese fighters.

The fighter attack was beaten off and eight Japanese planes were shot down. Four Allied naval aircraft failed to return. There were no casualties or damage to the fleet.

A dispatch from AP correspondent Charles A. Grumlich "aboard a British aircraft carrier in the Indian Ocean" today said the Nicobar Islands had been bombed "day and night this week with co-ordinated air strikes and feints as a long-range diversion in liaison with the U.S. landings in the Philippines." "The action was the British Eastern Fleet's most prolonged mission of the war."

Paper Hints Sweden Should Enter War

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Under the headline "What Can Sweden Do? Terror in Norway and Denmark," the newspaper Aftonbladet suggested tentatively in an editorial Friday that "Sweden should go into the war."

"It cannot be denied such action would be convincing evidence of our solidarity with our neighbors," the Social Democratic Party newspaper said.

The Aftonbladet said Swedish military power now is certainly sufficient to free Norway from Germany.

sides the Haida were the Canadian Iroquois and the British Bellona, Ashanti and Tartar.

Moon saw the flashes of the guns on the horizon when the German battleship Scharnhorst was sunk, as the Haida was screening a convoy en route to Murmansk.

The Haida put ashore munitions and food for the French Maquis at Sables d'Olonne, where the Canadians were received enthusiastically by the populace.

4 Canadians In Fighter Bombers That Killed Rommel

BRUSSELS (CP-Reuters) — Weeks of research by military authorities and the intelligence service have established that the men who fatally wounded Field Marshal Rommel were Canadian and British Typhoon fighter-bomber pilots of the R.A.F. Tactical Air Force.

None of them knew at the time anything unusual would result from their routine bombing and strafing mission near the village of Dozule, east of Caen July 17. The squadron's logbook for that day merely records:

"Dive-bombed enemy strong-points south of Caen. Wing Cmdr. Baldwin, leading eight aircraft, attacked enemy strong-points with good results. A staff car and an armored car also were strafed and left burning."

Flying with Wing Cmdr. Baldwin, D.S.O., D.F.C. and Bar of the R.A.F., were FO. Pete Langille of St. John, N.B.; Flt. Lt. R. W. Davidge and Flt. Lt. W. A. Switzer, both of Edson, Alta.; WO. A. E. Sugden of Outremont, Montreal, and three Englishmen. Baldwin said Friday: "East of Caen and south of Coburg, near

The cracking of the Siegfried Line, which now seems a certainty, poses the problem for Adolf Hitler whether to declare industrial and historical centres like Cologne, Coblenz, Mainz, Augsburg and Dusseldorf open cities, or whether to doom them to inevitable destruction in the pattern of Aachen.

These cities, as far as I could ascertain before I left Germany in May, 1942, are not fortified in the sense in which Aachen was a village called Dozule. I spotted two dispatch riders, one bigish armored car, another motor transport, a staff car and a smaller armored car.

"This indicated somebody of importance, and I gave the usual order for the section to peel off, one by one, and strafe the vehicles."

Langille and Sugden said: "One of the dispatch riders got away as there was plenty of cover beneath the hedges and trees. The other was killed on the spot and as we cut off back home we saw the cars either smoking or in flames."

There have been stories about a line of defence along the Rhine. The Rhine itself, broad and majestic in its middle section, is, of course, a hindrance to progress. Its monumental bridges will in all probability be blasted by the retreating enemy.

The destruction of the Rhine bridges will slow up progress, but it should be only temporary. Meanwhile, on the left bank a shambles will be made of whatever city declines to surrender.

Agreed Policies Needed in Canada, Says McNaughton

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Compulsion should hold no place in Canadian policy, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, retired commander of the Canadian army overseas, today told a Queen's University convocation gathering.

He spoke of the need for the development of tolerant leaders who, in the hard days ahead when tough postwar problems would have to be solved, would find the solution through an interchange of views.

He told the students they were the future leaders.

"When you come, as you will, to places of authority and influence," he said, "and you face the acute issues which may divide our country part from part, may I commend this principle of action to your best thought and interest—compulsion is ruled out; we proceed by agreement, or for a time we rest content to not proceed at all."

The general, whose daughter Leslie sat among the students, also spoke of the need for more widespread education among the

Mustering-Out Pay Policy Approved By Majority

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO—Those Canadians who maintain that the cash "mustering out" payments planned for active service soldiers should also be paid to men who have been drafted for service in Canada only, have not got the majority support of public opinion behind them. In fact, they represent slightly over a third of the adult population of the Dominion.

After the federal government had announced its policy of paying mustering-out cash "bonuses" to general service personnel who had seen active service, some debate arose to whether similar payments should or should not be paid to men recruited under the National Resources Mobilization Act. Actual division of opinion among the general public was found to vary fairly sharply in different areas, but nationally, to be largely in approval of the present policy. This fact was determined when the Institute, through its opinion reporters put this question to a representative cross-section or sample of the population:

"Under present plans soldiers who have volunteered for active service will get a sum of money in addition to such things as the clothing allowance after they are discharged. Soldiers who have not volunteered for active service will not receive this additional money. Do you approve of this or not?"

Approve 62%; disapprove 34%; undecided 4%.

QUEBEC OBJECTS

Consistent with his views on the whole subject, of which this issue is merely one aspect, the average Quebec voter does not approve of what he believes to be discrimination as between general service men and N.R.M.A. recruits. Thus opinion in Canada's oldest province reverses that in the other eight, and shows a majority disapproving the current policy:

	Quebec	Rest of Canada
Approve	39%	64%
Disapprove	54%	28%
Undecided	7%	8%

Reverting to the national figures shown in the first table, the 34 per cent who, nationally, registered disapproval of the present policy were asked an additional question:

"Do you think soldiers who have not volunteered for active service should receive the same amount as those who have volunteered, or not as much?"

The group questioned divided evenly on this point:

	Same amount	Not as much
Approve	16%	16%
Disapprove	18%	18%
Undecided	6%	6%

While the poll found no differences of opinion as between most other groups of the population (for example men and women divide in approximately the same ratio), it is interesting to see that supporters of the Progressive-Conservative party are slightly more in approval of the policy adopted by a Liberal government, than are rank and file Liberals themselves, although a big majority of all three major parties approve. The difference, of course, is due to the views of Quebec, where Liberal support is comparatively strong.

Percentages, in each of the three major political parties, of those who approve of the government's policy is as follows:

	% Approve
Progressive-Conservatives	71
Liberals	64

This Victory Loan Insignia

is an adaptation of the Shoulder Sleeve Insignia of the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force.

"Upon a field of heraldic sable (Black) representing the darkness of Nazi oppression, is shown the sword of Liberation in the form of a Crusader's Sword, the flames arising from the hilt and leaping up the blade. This represents avenging justice by which the enemy power will be broken in Nazi-dominated Europe. Above the sword is a rainbow emblematic of hope containing all the colors of which the National Flags of the Allies are composed.

"The heraldic chief of azure (Blue) above the rainbow is emblematic of a state of peace and tranquility, the restoration of which to the enslaved people is the objective of the United Nations."

Trap 12,000 Nazis And Collaborators Inside Dunkerque

By SEAGHAN MAYNES

WITH THE 1st CANADIAN ARMY OUTSIDE DUNKERQUE (CP-Reuters)—A strange cat-and-mouse war is being fought far behind the Allied lines at the French port of Dunkerque, where 12,000 German expendables are trapped with their backs to England and the sea.

With them are 500 collaborators who preferred to stay with the doomed garrison rather than risk the vengeance of liberated France.

These suicide troops, remnants of the shattered German 7th Army routed in France, today are holding defence positions almost similar to those British troops held in 1940 before the evacuation.

Although outside supplies for the garrison are restricted to nightly flights by one or two Luftwaffe planes, the food situation is favorable.

They have plenty of mortars and guns, including two 280-mm. railway guns, but there are indications their supply of shells is none too plentiful after the intense barrages they have been laying down on the Allied positions since the Allies encircled them during the first week of September.

With complete control of the floodgates, the Germans have flooded large areas around Dunkerque as the British did during their fighting retreat, and each road above water is covered by 88 and 75-mm. batteries.

Pearl Harbor Report
Reviewed; May Be Freed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal announced Friday night he had received a report from the naval court which investigated the Pearl Harbor disaster but the court had marked it secret.

He added that he was asking Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the fleet to review the report and the records of the proceedings to determine how much must be kept secret.

MONDAY IS THE DAY

PERHAPS THE BEST PROOF THAT THE Canadian people do not require lengthy "curtain lectures" on the reasons why they should buy more Seventh Victory Loan bonds than they did of the Sixth of the series lies in the fact that they handsomely passed all records for individual cash subscriptions last spring. They were asked to lend the government $1,200,000,000 and they put no less a sum than $1,407,000,000 at the disposal of the Dominion Minister of Finance. Here is evidence with a vengeance that Canadians know a good investment when they see one. And more than 3,000,000 of them are the proud possessors of Victory Bonds. They are the prudent ones who have protected themselves against the vagaries of any economic winds that may blow in the years to come.

One point about the Seventh Victory Loan which is entitled to special mention, however, is that it is the first appeal which coincides with the full employment of all the armed forces of Canada against the common enemy. Men of the Royal Canadian Navy and the Royal Canadian Air Force have been at it hammer and tongs for five long years. And thousands of lads from the land of the Maple Leaf have covered themselves with glory in the Mediterranean campaigns. But until the invasion of Normandy began last June 6 the vast majority of the Canadian people had not experienced the impact of casualty lists such as now confront them every day in the newspapers. These laconic notices are increasing in volume as the tempo of the bitter struggle against a fanatical foe in Europe grows. And the end is not yet. Little more remains to be said about them. They are nevertheless the poignant reminders of the duty to be done by those of us who are going our easy and comfortable ways in our homeland. Our kith and kin are going through hell in Italy and on the western front—in the skies and on the seas. Canada at long last is all out in actual battle. Surely Canadians in the peace and quiet of their own country will jump at the chance to go all out, too, and show their gratitude by establishing new records with this Seventh Victory Loan.

They will jump at the chance for another reason: They have the money to lend. At the beginning of last month, Canadians owned deposits in the chartered banks of Canada amounting to no less than $4,264,000,000—exclusive of federal and provincial holdings. Not only does this figure represent the largest amount of money ever held in the banks in Canadian history; it is $147,000,000 greater than the total standing to depositors' credit before they loaned Mr. Ilsey $1,407,000,000 six months ago. And $2,370,000,000 of the $4,264,000,000 is lying idle in savings accounts earning only half the interest which Victory Bonds return. One more point for the sake of emphasis: Cash subscriptions to the six previous issues total $6,668,000,000; and yet Canadians have at their command $4,264,000,000 to meet the Seventh's appeal for $1,300,000,000! There is the answer to: "Where is the money coming from?"

SHOULD PRODUCE VISION

SUBJECT TO A GUARANTEE FROM the Bank of Montreal under seal that the whole scheme will be implemented, and dependent to a degree on the physical question of printing the necessary bonds, Victoria's refunding of $11,500,000 bonded indebtedness appears assured of success.

On the basis of computations made by Mr. D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer, the move will save the city approximately $3,000,000 in carrying charges over the 30 years' life of the issue. After the immediate and major saving of $233,000 next year, it will reduce charges by an amount approximately equivalent to two mills a year. At the same time, it will shorten the present term of retirement by one to two years, according to estimates.

The City Council, while gratified with a good stroke of business, should pause to contrast its position today with that of eight years ago, when it was struggling through its earlier refunding scheme. Then, refunding was an imperative. The city, financially, had its back to the wall. The conversion of its outstanding debt corresponded to the shot of adrenalin which frequently saves the patient. Divorced now from the civic political issues which surrounded it, the earlier plan can be assessed for its worth. It helped to restore the city's credit, made it possible for Victoria to carry on, and was the background on which the councils of succeeding years could paint an encouraging tapestry of ever-growing financial strength and returning prosperity. The council of a few years ago paid tribute to its authors, the late Mayor David Leeming and the then Ald. Percy Brown, chairman of the finance committee at that time. They acknowledged the great assistance the plan had given them in cutting tax rates and meeting other obligations.

The mayor and aldermen look with confidence to the completion of their new deal. They have taken advantage of the more opportune times and the cheaper money available for investment. And they have profited, too, from the experience of the earlier scheme. Now, if they adopt the co-related proposal to use 1945's apparent savings towards reduction of the bank loan, they will be able to save between $65,000 and $67,000 annually from 1946.

What action councils of the future take with those savings is highly important to this community. The city has taken cognizance of developments needed now, but has postponed action until the return of a peacetime economy. It has recognized its obligations in that field, but has taken little visible action to meet them. It would reflect scant credit on Victoria if too parsimonious administrations were to use those funds as a vote inducement through the transient appeal of a lower mill rate at the expense of civic welfare.

KEEP POLITICS OUT

CANADIAN NEWSPAPERS OF EVERY shade of political thought are urging National Defence Minister Ralston, now back in Canada after a month's visit to the fronts where Dominion troops are fighting, to reply to Major Connie Smythe's charge that reinforcements are being sent overseas with insufficient training and unfamiliar with modern weapons. The request is a reasonable one; nor is Colonel Ralston, who gained his professional military experience in the trenches of the first Great War, likely to delay his findings in respect of the charges which have disturbed many minds. In the meantime, however, if some of those newspapers which have assumed a pontifical air about Maj. Smythe's complaint were less concerned with making political capital, and more genuinely desirous of clearing up what may or may not be an ugly situation, their observations on the subject would command greater respect. But because Ontario's Premier Drew has taken the charges as gospel, most of the editorial comment has savored of an excuse to attack the King government in general and the Department of National Defence in particular. We agree that the minister's reply should not be delayed one minute longer than it takes to issue it. But he has only just returned and should be given a reasonable time to assemble his information.

IS AACHEN THE PATTERN?

WHAT THE WORLD WOULD LIKE TO know is whether the Fuehrer has ordered his commanders to defend all German cities with the same stubbornness as that displayed at Aachen—now in Allied hands. Besides being the city of Charlemagne, of course, Aachen is also the front door to Cologne and the first stop in the Reich on the high road to Berlin.

If the Fuehrer chooses to try to make a Stalingrad out of every sizable city in Germany, it is clear that he will be guilty of another of his egregious military blunders. For the Reich's over-all position is much more desperate than Russia's ever was. And the spirit of the Germans is not the spirit of the Russians by any means. Even at Leningrad and Stalingrad, the Soviet Union had considerable material and productive support on which to fall back. Hitler has the Russian armies at his back door. Even in the darkest days, moreover, Russia received important aid from her Allies, Germany, on the other hand, is hemmed in, and her last remaining satellite is about to drop from the poisonous Nazi vine.

Hitler assuredly has good fighting men. But he does not have the soldiers of Stalingrad. Even the Herr Doktor Goebbels never suggested that Russian officers there, or at Sevastopol, had to stand at a railroad with ready guns to shoot any men who tried to surrender. We have this story of officers at Aachen from German soldiers who did manage to escape and give up. There are normally 800,000 people living in Cologne; if the Fuehrer decides to order its defence, meaning its complete destruction, the sequel may be interesting.

IT HAS WORKED WELL

ONE OF THE MOST GRATIFYING facts of Canada's wartime experiences is the relative absence of grumbling about the rationing of food. The average housewife has found nothing particularly irritating in the coupon system and those regulations which the international emergency has prescribed. They understand that no government relishes the introduction of policies which interfere with the even tenor of the citizen's way; and they are fully persuaded that so soon as it is practical to relinquish its control of food, the ration book and its colored pages will be relegated to the limbo.

Our people, of course, are mindful of the trials and tribulations of the housewife in Britain—where food is rationed with a vengeance. But about the only grumbling which appears in the British press is occasioned by somebody uncovering a "black market" operating in commodities in the controlled category. These instances are nevertheless few and far between. The people accept the government's decrees with good grace; they utter no threats or turn a national and necessary edict into a political football. Canadians in the main take a similar attitude. They know that their insignificant denials have meant a little more food to war-weary Britons.

Most of the people, of course, realize how fortunate they are to get practically all the eatables they require, in their infinite variety, when they want them. And when the war is over and controls are relaxed they will look back upon Canada's food rationing policy as one which has caused the least inconvenience or annoyance.

Final strain on good manners: A sailor calling on daughter, and dad sticking around to ask about the war.

Smart women are learning to say: "I'll do without until the war is over before I'll pay such prices for things that are no good."

Bruce Hutchison

FOREIGN POLICY AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, D.C.—It is not possible, even though the campaign is near its end, to identify the issues of the presidential election for no clear issues have been posed between the two parties. But it is possible now to see the main factors, conflicts, aspirations, fears and prejudices which will dominate the peoples' vote. Also it is possible to detect the growing anxiety of the Republican party, the increasing bitterness against the President, the effort to turn his record and his speeches against him—the manoeuvres obviously of a party which fears defeat; while on the other hand the Democratic party evidently has adopted an attitude of studied composure and unshakable confidence, a mood set with artistic showmanship by the President in his Teamsters' Union speech. This appearance will be maintained to the end whatever the Democrats may think privately.

TO THE WORLD at large the chief importance of the election lies, of course, in its effect on United States foreign policy. After months of discussion and attempted clarification, this effect is more doubtful than ever. Both parties agreed at the start to keep foreign policy out of the campaign. After the party leaders had lapsed briefly from this agreement, the President accusing his enemies of isolationism and Mr. Dewey accusing the President of unpreparedness for the war, the issue was allowed to drop out of sight. Whether it will appear again is not clear.

The vital fact to the world is that the campaign has advanced instead of retarding the ideal of world co-operation. More than any previous campaign it has crystallized this nation behind a policy of international co-operation and has finally discredited the doctrine of isolationism.

Mr. Dewey has endorsed the work of the Dumbarton Oaks conference after his original warnings against it. Mr. Roosevelt has felt sufficient public support behind him to demand that the new League of Nations be formed well before the end of the war. This is progress in the right direction, the value of which can only be appreciated if one realizes that collective security could easily have been made a mere football in this campaign as in 1920, with results disastrous to the future of the world.

At the moment, lacking any clash of views, foreign policy does not dominate the vote, though it is a leading factor. Millions of voters will support Mr. Roosevelt against their inclinations, believing that he alone can make good the hopes of Dumbarton Oaks, and millions because they want him to finish the war as commander-in-chief.

MORE VOTES will probably be influenced by the cardinal issue. That issue is Roosevelt himself in innumerable and conflicting phases. To very great extent it will be a vote on the New Deal, the President's heaviest political liability.

In the ordinary cycle of American politics an old administration would be swept away even if there were no New Deal. The hatred of the New Deal, the revolt against its regulations and interferences, add a final impetus to the usual demand for a change. The New Deal, on the other hand has friends, chiefly among organized labor. They are rallying to its support, but they could not hope to win without the prestige of the President, which perhaps counterbalances the opposition to his policies and his mistakes.

Even though Mr. Dewey has endorsed most of the President's social reforms and advocated their extension, his chief asset is the theory that somehow he can straighten out the present tangles of bureaucracy and dissolve the fierce class conflicts of contemporary life. This is an asset even better than the second breach of the two-term tradition for, having once broken it, the President is doing it again with less difficulty. Nevertheless, the old democratic instinct in this country against the theory of any man being essential, an instinct inherited from the nation's first president, will sway a vast number of voters.

WHILE ECONOMIC problems are the core of the confusing argument, it does not extend logically to American economic policy towards other nations. The tariff, which will become the real test of American economic co-operation with the world, is hardly mentioned. Both parties are leaving it alone for fear of offending various pressure groups, and efforts to reform the tariff structure have been postponed until after the poll.

In an election which may be close, the vote of racial minorities can be crucial. Both parties are trying to appeal strongly, therefore to such groups as the Jews, Poles, Italians and Negroes. The two candidates have talked in generalities, but they have promised fair treatment for Poland and Italy in the peace settlement, and Mr. Dewey has demanded the creation of a Jewish state in Palestine. Both have been careful so far to make no commitment to foreign language groups which would embarrass the next peace in Europe.

The President's health is an election factor not to be underestimated. Mr. Roosevelt himself evidently fears that his slight illnesses of this year may be used effectively against him, for his physician has been careful to announce that the President is in perfect condition. Nevertheless the sudden death of Wendell Willkie reminded the American people sharply of man's mortality, and many voters will be swayed by it.

ZELLINSKY-GATEHOUSE

A brilliant gown of white taffeta, featuring bracelet-length sleeves and a sweetheart neckline, was chosen by Myfanwy Cedilla, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Gatehouse, 1911 Lalle Street, for her marriage, Thursday evening, in Oak Bay United Church, to ERA, Walter Frederick Zellinsky, R.C.N.V.R., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Zellinsky of Bamberton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's pearls and a fingertip veil which cascaded from a halo trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and yellow roses. Mrs. G. Crozier was matron of honor, wearing a frock of turquoise sheer with a matching sweetheart headress and carried a sheaf of pale yellow chrysanthemums. Little Jean Logie, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, in a long frock of primrose taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of pastel flowers and wore a wreath of the same in her hair. P. O. G. A. Harpon, R.C.N.V.R., was best man and naval friends of the groom ushered.

Rev. W. W. McPherson, D.D., performed the ceremony and T. S. Phillips played the wedding music. The full choir was in attendance, singing an anthem and "O Perfect Love" while the bride's party was in the vestry.

One hundred guests attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Gatehouse was assisted in receiving the guests by the groom's mother, Mrs. Zellinsky. T. F. Alexander proposed the toast to the bride, after which she cut the three-tier cake made by her mother.

After a honeymoon up-island and in Vancouver, ERA and Mrs. Zellinsky will make their home in Victoria. Going away, the bride wore a gold frock, brown topcoat, matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

McDONALD-TRUDEL

Father J. R. Buckley solemnized the marriage at Our Lady of Lourdes Church Thursday of Marie Trudel, daughter of Mr. I. G. Trudel, 1064 St. David Street, and the late Mrs. Bernette Trudel, and P. O. Gerard McDonald, R.C.A.F., Toledo, Ohio.

Given away by her father, the bride chose a beige dressmaker suit with cinnamon brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and sweetheart roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. C. J. Collins and Mr. C. J. Collins was groomsmen.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's father for members of the family.

P. O. and Mrs. McDonald left for a honeymoon on the mainland, the bride donning a brown squirrel coat over her wedding ensemble.

HAGARTY-RUGG

Belmont United Church was the scene of an afternoon wedding Tuesday when Marjorie Denise Emerick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rugg, became the bride of W. E. Edwin Foran Hagarty, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hagarty of Courtenay.

Rev. T. E. Holling officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Harwood played the wedding music and Mrs. Hardy sang "All Joy Be Thine," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with a yoke and waist of lace, buttoned down the back. Her long sleeves were pointed at the wrists. On her head she wore a lace Juliet cap with a white flower at each side. Her bouquet was of red roses and swainsons. She wore a string of pearls, which were a gift of the groom.

Miss Sheila Hagarty, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid and wore a pink sheer gown made with a full skirt and long sleeves. On her head she had a bandeau of pink velvet with white chrysanthemums. Her bouquet was of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Lieut. Jack Anderson, R.C.N.V.R., of Vancouver, was the best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. Devlin.

For traveling on her honeymoon up-island, the bride wore a violet transparent velvet dress with a hat to match and a squirrel coat. On her muff she had a mauve orchid.

They will reside in Halifax.

To Hold Institute For Social Workers

Miss Marjorie Smith, director of social work at the University of British Columbia, will hold an institute in Victoria from Nov. 1 to Nov. 4, under the auspices of the Canadian Association of Social Workers. It was announced at a board meeting of the Family Welfare Association. Eight social workers from the state of Washington and many local workers are planning to attend. E. H. Wilson presided. Ord Butters and Mrs. A. I. Spurgin, general secretary, reported on the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference.

Building of a senior citizens' clubhouse will be postponed, the board decided, and the city of Victoria will be released of its promise to sell a lot to the organization. It was reported the Council of Social Agencies would obtain quarters and form a club with volunteer helpers this season.

Alderman W. H. Davies paid tribute to the work of Mrs. G. Hughes, director of the Sunshine Camp, whose resignation was accepted, and said this had been the most successful season.

Mrs. Spurgin reported Lieut. Jessie Torrance, director of demobilization for W.R.C.N.S., was appreciative of the work of social agencies across Canada in preparing for rehabilitation.

Ord Butters gave the case committee report in the absence of the chairman, Rev. F. Comley.

Student Nurses Get 4 Weeks' Holiday

Lauding student nurses at the Royal Jubilee Hospital for the "splendid way in which they have carried on in the face of extremely heavy pressure," members of the board of directors of the hospital, at a meeting Friday night, decided to give students four weeks' holiday a year instead of three.

Directors stated that such a policy has been found to result in greater efficiency and better health in other hospitals where it has been instituted.

Formation of an historical committee was discussed at length and directors asked public-spirited citizens and friends of the hospital to take part. An appeal will be made to old-timers in Victoria who may have information or documents concerning the old hospital which may be of historical interest. Some old pictures have been received by the board, but to date it has been unable to find pictures of the old Royal on the reserve and the original hospital on Pandora Avenue.

An upswing in accident cases with 73 for the month and an increase in the number of out-patients was reported for the month. A total of 695 in-patients were admitted and births for the month totaled 86, bringing the 1944 figure to 910.

Directors learned that organization of the Seventh Victory Loan campaign among employees was completed with the staff objective set at $15,300. Members of the building committee reported rapid progress on the new maternity pavilion and the directors discussed methods of intensifying their efforts to raise $60,000 still needed for the building.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

At the weekly meeting of the Literary Society, Miss B. Beale presented a summary of the past week's current events. The main event of the program was a joke contest, with three members from each group participating. The members of the faculty acted as judges, awarding the school plaque to Class C. The remainder of the meeting was taken by a sing-song. Dr. Anderson read a humorous poem, "The Story of Prince Agib."

During the week the Normal students visited the various schools of Victoria, where they will do their practice teaching.

Conference Concludes Parenthood Week

Culminating the various activities of "Better Parenthood Week" is the 14th annual Bortier Conference of Parents and Teachers and the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation, which opened in the York room, Hotel Georgia, Vancouver, today.

Representatives from Victoria included Percy E. George, first vice-president of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation and Mrs. Ernest Evans, president of the Victoria and District P.T. Council, who will lead a discussion on "Working for Today and Planning for Tomorrow."

Dr. Gordon Shrum, Dept. of Extension, University of B.C., who was the luncheon speaker today, said "I can assure you that all members of the department are greatly encouraged to know we have been of some assistance in the valuable work which is being carried on by your federation. I hope that we may continue to co-operate in extending the field and usefulness of adult education."

Trafalgar Day Tea Aids Sea Cadets
Over $20, proceeds of a Trafalgar Day tea held Friday afternoon in the Union Building by the W.A. to the Navy League of Canada, will aid work with the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets.

Mrs. B. Impey and Mrs. J. Harding convened the affair, and the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Austin King, president of the auxiliary.

Mrs. C. Filewood was in charge of tea tickets, Mrs. F. G. Nobbs arranged the novelty and apron stall, and Mrs. T. Pulthorpe convened the home cooking stall.

Assisting with tea arrangements were: Mrs. W. C. Smith, Mrs. T. C. Davies and Mrs. E. Goodall.

Must Continue Price Controls

OTTAWA (CP)—Government spokesmen are talking more about price and salary controls than they have for a year. They say the successes of Allied arms has caused considerable pressure for the easing of regulations which hold prices and wages down to the level of 1941, but that if they are relaxed inflation is sure.

A government booklet issued the other day said pressures tending to force up the cost of living continue to threaten the soundness of the Dominion's wartime effort.

"It is perhaps not unnatural, however, in the sixth year of war, that a sense of the individual responsibility for maintaining a stable economy should need restressing," the booklet says.

If concessions were granted manufacturers and distributors, farmers, wage earners and salaried people the whole stabilization structure would collapse.

The tough Texas longhorn cattle that once ranged western plains 10,000,000 strong were descendants of cattle brought, probably about 1521, from the Andalusian hills of Spain to the West Indies and Mexico.

DON'T SACRIFICE TOO MUCH

Dear Miss Dix. I know a poor young couple who got married. Their union was truly a partnership. The husband worked at his business; the wife slaved and saved at home. The wife did without everything she possibly could so that every cent might go into the business, and they prospered mightily.

At middle age they are rich. Another woman has set her greedy eyes upon the husband. The husband spends his time and money on the other woman and his wife gets very little of either. The moral of which is that it doesn't pay to make your husband so prosperous that he becomes a prize for the vamps.

MRS. K. T. W.
Answer: Right you are, Mrs. K. T. W. It is only the poor men who are safe from gold-diggers, there is nothing that makes for virtue in a man like lacking the price.

The instance you cite illustrates anew how difficult it is to be a good wife, for very often when a woman is trying hardest to help her husband she is doing the thing that ruins him. She slaves and saves and denies herself in order to help him get a start. As long as she does this and they work shoulder to shoulder, her husband is faithful and devoted. But once the fortune is achieved, how sadly often the man becomes the prey of other women!

The lesson of which is that a wife who is wise does not sacrifice too much. She takes her pleasure and indulgences in moderation as she goes along, and keeps her husband at that state where he has enough money on which to be comfortable, but not enough to make him a shining mark for the sirens.

Dear Miss Dix. I am 40 years old. Have been married 15 years and have a little girl 8 years old. My wife is ill a great deal and is very quarrelsome. I treat her like a baby and have given her a comfortable home, but she is continually fussing and I have gotten so I dread to go home. Please advise me what to do, as I am as you can. There are few lots of life that are harder than those of the men and women who are married to invalids because ill people are nearly always irritable and selfish, but when you married you swore to cherish the woman you took in sickness and in health, and the more you are of a man, the less you can go back on that.

Also, you have your child to consider. Your duty to her. Find what comfort you can in her love and in developing her into a splendid woman.

Seek Prairie Labor To Fill Demands Here

In order to meet the heavy demand for labor in Victoria and district shipyards and sawmills, city selective service offices are seeking prairie labor, C. A. Mudge, manager, announced today.

With the finishing of harvest operations, he hopes there will be labor released during the winter months that can be sent here.

Employment figures showed an increase of 94 in male vacancies for jobs since last week, with the demand still emphasizing need for riveting crews, iron-workers' helpers and unskilled labor at the shipyards, and for sawmill labor.

Other figures for the men's section showed 955 jobs - still open; 157 men placed in employment, a further 53 referred but confirmation not yet received, and 218 registered as unemployed.

In the women's section, vacancies had dropped 24 in number during the week, leaving a total of 285 jobs still unfilled. There were 141 women placed and 86 referred, but confirmation not yet received. There are 453 women unemployed.

Col. F. T. Fairey Will Speak Monday

Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, through the co-operation of the Canadian Corps of Commissioners, has arranged to share their office in suite 3, Metropolitan Building, across from the Post Office.

The secretary or a member of the council will be there each afternoon from 2 to 4 except Saturdays and Sundays.

The next meeting of the council will be held in the City Hall council chamber Monday next at 8. Col. F. T. Fairey, director of technical education in B.C. and regional director of Canadian Vocational Training, who is now on his way back from Ottawa, where he has been conferring on re-establishment matters, will give the address. This address will deal with the provisions of the Dominion Government's measures to assist in the re-establishment in civil life of discharged persons from the armed forces, dealing particularly with his branch of the work. The public, especially members and ex-members of the services and their relatives, are invited to attend.

Bottle Comes Back: 26 Days in Sound

Radio's famed Quiz Kids have a romantic turn of mind. While the four, Richard Williams, Harvey Fischman, Joel Kupperman and Ruthie Duskin were on the boat returning to Seattle from Victoria after their appearance here in September, they wrote a note, sealed it in a pop bottle and dropped it over the side of the boat into Puget Sound, about halfway between Seattle and Victoria.

The note read, "Anyone finding this bottle, please write to us, Harvey Fischman and Richard Williams, care of the Quiz Kids, 8 South Michigan, Chicago, Ill. We would be glad to hear from you, September 11, 1944."

As the days went by and no word was heard of their bottle, the children began to give up hope, but 26 days later a letter arrived from Betty Jean Wotton of Friday Harbor, Washington, on San Juan Island, north of Victoria, who found the bottle when she was playing on the island's salmon banks.

A thriving correspondence has grown up between the little blonde girl, who is not quite five, and whose mother must of necessity aid in the letter-writing, and the Quiz Kids.

This Sunday at 8.30 three of the children who visited Victoria will be on the program, Richard Williams, Harvey Fischman and Ruthie Duskin, Tommy Franklin, aged 12, and a newcomer, Joanne Berg, aged 9, will be the other two contestants.

Play Written By Actor For Victory Loan Drive

A radio play, adapted from a story by Hume Cronyn, actor from London, Ont., who is now winning fame in Hollywood, will be featured in the Victory Loan series, to be heard over radio station CJVI, Saturday night at 6.

The story appeared in McLean's Magazine in August, and presents the situation in a Canadian home when a son is reported killed in action in Italy. An unfinished letter from the boy, forwarded by his company commander, provides the clear direction for thought, feeling and action in the family that has been unprepared for death.

RACING will return to fabulous Santa Anita this winter and after glancing over the condition book it looks a bigger and better season than ever. Santa Anita Park was opened Dec. 25, 1934, and has proven a real Santa Claus to horsemen. Dr. Charles Strub, big boss of the plant, a one-time dentist and owner of the San Francisco baseball club, meant it when he said: "I'll give them so much money they'll have to come out here and get it."

RETURNING to the races following an interruption of three years, owing to the war, Santa Anita's program is more pretentious and elaborate than ever. Operating from Dec. 30 through to March 13, on the heels of an attractive Hollywood Park schedule, it will offer Florida racing the severest opposition it has ever experienced. Any owner who does not take advantage of the California program, providing he has that class of racing stock, should have his head examined.

THE $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap for three-year-olds and up at a mile and a quarter, the world's richest race from 1931 through to 1941, is listed for March 3. Three $50,000 stakes are added headliners. Represented is a renewal of the Santa Anita Derby, Feb. 2, and the San Juan Capistrano Handicap at a mile and a half, settling the long-distance championship on closing day, isn't hard to swallow. The Santa Margarita Handicap, March 10, has been increased to $50,000 to make it the richest on earth for fillies and mares.

FIFTEEN stakes are outlined with the unprecedented offering of no open stake less than $20,000. The top calibre of the meeting is further shown by the fact that overnight purses will range up to $7,500. As support and encouragement to the important California breeding industry, two stakes, each $25,000 added, are listed. The California Breeders' Championship Stakes for two-year-olds foaled in the state is to be run on opening day. The Santa Catalina Handicap for all ages of home-breds from three-year-olds up is set for Feb. 3.

A GAME old campaigner will end his racing days this season when Bollingbroke, Townsend B. Martin's champion distance runner, is retired from the turf.

Bollingbroke, winner of more than $150,000 during six years of hard campaigning, will be sent to the farm sound in wind and limb at the peak of his racing career. The sturdy bay son of Equipoise and Wayabout by Fair Play, gained a reputation for remarkable staying powers. He was not a spectacular performer, showing no dazzling burst of speed, but when it came to going a route, Old Boly could always be depended upon to come through strongly at the finish.

Only comparatively few of the important stakes were long enough for Bollingbroke to exercise his exceptional staying powers. Otherwise horsemen agree he might have become one of the most famous of modern thoroughbreds.

Bollingbroke never needed an alibi.

Intercity Basketball Planned

R.C.A.F. Flyers Play

Latest developments in the Victoria and District Basketball League's plans to revive interest in the game here this winter, call for exhibition intercity games at the High School gym every Saturday night.

League officials have completed arrangements with the crack R.C.A.F. quintette at Pat Bay to take part in these exhibitions and efforts are being made to import some first class competition for the airmen.

Invitations have already been sent out to the University of Washington Huskies and the University of Oregon to come here for games before opening their Pacific Coast Conference schedules.

It is hoped to have a senior team here from Vancouver to usher in the series of intercity tilts the first Saturday night in November.

The Flyers have been working out for some time now and coach Porky Andrews reports his squad fit and ready to tackle the toughest kind of opposition.

Ezinicki Proves Bright Prospect With Toronto Club

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (CP)—A 20-year-old native of Winnipeg whose greatest ambition is to be able to play golf 365 days of the year, is expected to add scoring punch and fighting spirit to the current edition of the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League.

The player is Bill Ezinicki, who began playing hockey and golf when he was nine years old and has remarkable talent for both games. He has starred at junior hockey for three seasons and turned in a creditable performance in his one major golf tournament—the Canadian open—in which he played two years ago.

The quiet-spoken, 170-pound Ezinicki is best known for his hockey play with Oshawa Generals in the last two seasons, appearing in two Memorial Cup finals series, the club winning the Dominion junior title last spring. Previously he played with Winnipeg Rangers when that club was eliminated by Portage la Prairie, the year Portage went on to win the Memorial Cup.

BAD MAN REPUTATION

During his career with the Generals he acquired somewhat of a "bad man" reputation because of the number of penalties he drew. But he doesn't know how it came about.

"I don't know what I got them for," the dark-haired youngster said. "I just got them, that's all." In his two years at Oshawa, he was apprenticed as a toolmaker and he intends to put in the two more years necessary to qualify in the trade. This year he spent four months in the R.C.A.F. and when he was discharged for medical reasons, he tried to join the army but was rejected.

Leafs obtained him from Buffalo Bisons in a deal which sent George Boothman and Don Webster to the American Hockey League club. He was Buffalo property because the astute Eddie Shore of Bisons had him placed on that club's list when he was a juvenile playing in Winnipeg.

He finds the N.H.L. brand of hockey as demonstrated in Leaf training sessions "much tougher than the amateur brand."

Junior Golf Play At Uplands Club

The qualifying round for Uplands junior open championship will be played on Sunday. The Walter Gravin Trophy will go to the winner. First eight will qualify and the remainder will play in flights on three-quarter handicap. Players are asked to be on tee at the time specified. Draw and starting times follow: 8.30—Russell, Latham, Trevor Taylor, Gordon Hunter, 8.35—W. Macdonald, Keith Olson, Gilbert Smith, 8.40—Jack Smith, Russell Kerr, Lawrence Bates, 8.45—D. McLean, Ken Lea, Gordon Dods.

CALCUTTA CUP GOLF

The Calcutta Cup competition at the Victoria Golf Club will be played Nov. 4, as an 18 hole medal greensome. Entries will close Nov. 1 when the draw for partners and opponents will be made.

Coast League Has Growing Pains

Third Major League?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For seven hours Friday executives of the Pacific Coast Baseball League sweated through a closed session and emerged with the statement that aside from threshing out internal affairs in a give-and-take basis, nothing had been accomplished.

The 1945 schedule had not been drafted, the question of the length of the playing season hadn't been attended to, nor had the draft price, which presently is $7,500.

Then President Clarence Rowland told reporters: "We are going back to Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 9, for the National Association of Baseball Clubs meeting in a body."

That was all, from the official viewpoint. Anything that follows is strictly unofficial, perhaps speculative to a high degree, but Rowland, recognized as one of the shrewdest men in baseball, has a 10-year contract to direct the affairs of the Pacific Coast League. The owners selected him after he had, as president of the Los Angeles club, completed two remarkably successful seasons and been acclaimed as baseball's No. 1 minor league executive.

SOLID BACKING
Rowland has a long-range program for the league, and it embraces recognition as a third major circuit. He's going to fight for it, and the club owners are solidly behind him. They have the money to see the thing through. If the Coast League isn't accorded the recognition it seeks it is open to invasion by the majors. The two populous centres on the west coast, San Francisco and Los Angeles, could be grabbed by National or American League owners. The Coast League has a minor circuit, has certain safeguards, such as reimbursement for such invasion, and it would involve quite an outlay of cash for the majors to acquire the physical assets of the Los Angeles and San Francisco clubs. Each individual owner, as well as the league as a whole, would have to be paid off handsomely.

The directors elected C. L. Lawes, Oakland, first vice-president; Joe O'Neill, Sacramento, second vice-president, and Don Stewart, Los Angeles, third vice-president.

PHIL PALMER WINS

NEW YORK (CP)—Phil Palmer, 1404, Vancouver, B.C., knocked out Herbert Solomon, 134, New York, in 1:26 of the second round of a scheduled six-round boxing bout at the St. Nicholas Arena here Friday night.

Hockey Gossip

Nick Metz, the hard-wheat farmer from Wilcox, Sask., has arrived at Maple Leafs training camp at Owen Sound after an absence of two seasons from the N.H.L. Only Bob Davidson, Sweeney Schriner, Reg Hamilton and Lorne Carr were qualified to shake hands as old teammates. Maple Leafs have lost centre ice star Ted (Teeter) Kennedy, who has been called to Toronto for an army medical test after having been rejected twice previously.

In Kennedy's absence, Mel Hill played centre on a forward line with veteran Bob Davidson and Bill Ezinicki, the former Winnipeg and Oshawa junior star who gives promise of developing into an outstanding right wing. Gus Bodner returned to action after a layoff due to illness, playing centre between veterans Sweeney Schriner and Lorne Carr.

The four likely choices for defence positions—Babe Pratt, Elwin Morris, Reg Hamilton and Pete Backer, the Port-William boy who played with St. Catharines in the Ontario Hockey Association last season—were in action at defence positions in the practice for the number one squad, with Jim Thomson, from Winnipeg, and Ross Johnstone, Leaf utility player last season, also on defence.

Montreal Canadiens will file their list of players with the N.H.L. today and it is expected the names will be available to the public Monday.

Canadiens will carry two goal keepers this season, five defencemen and 11 forwards. Coach Dick Irvin predicts his squad will be able to hold its own against any of the others, all of whom have said they are stronger this year than last.

Manager Lester Patrick is keeping mum about "doings" in the New York Ranger training camp at Winnipeg, and Art Ross, coach of Boston Bruins, hasn't divulged his 1944-45 team yet.

Three Detroit Red Wings signed contracts Friday for the coming season, bringing the total to seven signed by the National Hockey League club. Yesterday's signees were goaltender Conny Dion and defencemen Bill (Flash) Hollett and Bill Quackenbush.

The Wings have still eight players to sign, but the club management anticipates no difficulty.

The front office announced yesterday that Dick Kowcnack and George Defelice, both with Indianapolis Capitals last season, left to rejoin the A.H.L. club after being "hold-outs" for a brief time.

One new player reported on the ice yesterday. He was Bob Thorp, 20-year-old right winger who had been busy playing with St. Catharines Athletics in the Canadian lacrosse finals. He is a Canadian army reject. Thorp may see action in Sunday's exhibition game here against Cleveland Barons of the A.H.L.

Manage San Diego

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pepper Martin of the St. Louis Cardinals has been signed as manager of the San Diego team of the Pacific Coast League, it was announced Friday by Bill Starr, president of the Padres.

Starr declined to name the salary involved but said the contract is for one year only. He said Martin, given his outright release by the Cardinals at the end of the last season, will report to the Padres for spring training.

players has been called for Monday at 5 to select players for the all-star team to battle Blaine Nov. 25.

WITH THE R.C.A.F. OVERSEAS—The men's softball team from the station commanded by Group Captain J. A. Hutchison of Edmonton, won the R.C.A.F. overseas championship by nosing out last year's champions from Group Captain Clare Annis' station 2 to 1 in a game at Murrayfield Park, Edinburgh, Scotland.

In the women's division the team from R.C.A.F. Bomber Group, commanded by Air Vice-Marshal C. M. McEwen, carried off the honors. It edged out the team from the R.C.A.F. Overseas Headquarters, London, by a 3 to 2 score.

The games were played as part of the "Canadian-Scottish Holiday Week-end," sponsored by Edinburgh.

Despite showers and cool weather, some fine softball was shown, especially in the final games, witnessed by 3,000 people. Eight teams from the district R.C.A.F. units in England, Scotland and Ireland were represented in the playdowns. Six teams played off in the men's division and two in the women's.

The final game turned out to be a pitchers' duel between L.A.C. Emille Genge, Windsor, Ont., and P.O. J. L. Reid of Toronto, who hurled for the winning team.

WIN IN NINTH

The winners trailed their opponents by a single run until the eighth innings, when an error, two walks and a sacrifice fly tied the score. The winning run was scored in the first half of the ninth. Cpl. R. A. Ashton of Montreal started it off by smacking out a two-base hit. He stole third and romped home with the winning run after a foul fly had been caught by the left fielder.

Coach of the winning team was W.C. W. E. Poupore of Victoria, B.C. "Porky" Dumart of Boston Bruins' hockey fame, was the coach of the losing team.

The tournament was supervised by W.C. D. D. Crighton of Toronto, Ont., senior auxiliary services officer overseas, SL J. C. Steele of Victoria, B.C., officer in charge of physical training and drill for the R.C.A.F. Overseas, and Haddow Mills, senior supervisor of the Canadian Legion War Services in Scotland and Ireland.

DETROIT (CP)—Led by some of the National Hockey League's most gifted goal-getters, Detroit Red Wings give promise of being strong contenders for championship honors in the 1944-45 N.H.L. campaign which opens locally Sunday, Oct. 29, with Boston Bruins as the opponents of the Wings.

Eleven members of last year's team, which finished in second place in the league standings, are included among the 15 players manager-coach Jack Adams has named as the squad which will start the season.

The veterans include such talented performers as forwards Syd Howe, Carl Liscombe, Modere (Mud) Bruneteau, Joe Carveth and Murray Armstrong and defenceman Bill (Flash) Hollett.

Others from last year's team are Bill Quackenbush, Harold Jackson, Cully Simon and goalie Conny Dion and then there is Don (The Count) Grosso. The newcomers are Larry Thibeault, Jud McAtee, Ted Lindsay and Steve Wochoy.

Liscombe, left-winger from Galt, Ont., led the club in scoring last season with 36 goals and 37 assists for 73 points and a club record. Howe, who has tallied 206 goals in his N.H.L. career, was right up with the league leaders with 32 goals and 28 assists for 60 points. Carveth had 56 points, Bruneteau 53, Grosso 57, Hollett 34 and Armstrong 34.

Dion has been established as the regular goalie right from the start this season. Last year he came to the club in mid-season. Wochoy, formerly of Fort William, is another first-year performer.

UPLANDS GOLF

In the competition against par for women at the Uplands Golf Club, Mrs. J. F. Dawson took the honors in the A group with a score of 1 up. In the B group, Mrs. H. T. Webb finished all square to win.

$1,500,000 7th Loan Payroll Objective

The payroll savings objective of $1,500,000 for Victoria in the 7th Victory Loan campaign which opens Monday represents 15 per cent of the payroll of every business and industry in this area having more than 50 employees. The objective is $105,000 higher than that of the 6th Loan campaign.

Firms whose employees subscribe 17½ per cent or more of their total payroll will receive a pennant, it was announced. The campaign will be directed to 14,000 employees of firms in this category.

At Yarrows Ltd. the objective will be $812,000; at Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. $180,500, and at the provincial government offices $125,000.

Unions in the shipyards and other industries and associations and employee groups in other establishments will play an integral part in the coming campaign, officials stated.

Subscriptions last year on the payroll savings plan totaled $1,440,000, which was well over the quota of $1,395,000.

Oak Bay Leads

Oak Bay leads in building activities this week with four permits issued for a total value of $13,750.

Three new five-room houses have been started, at 2530 Bowker Avenue, value, $4,400; 2292 McNeill Avenue, value $4,400, and 2638 Musgrave Street, value $4,800.

The fourth permit is for an alteration, value $150.

Saanich issued eight permits for a total value of $9,650. Three of the permits were for dwellings: A five-room Cromwell Road residence at $6,500, and two Ambassador Road homes at $1,300 each.

In the city one dwelling only was included in eight projects of a total value of $7,145. The permit for the home, a $4,500 four-room dwelling at 2712 Forbes, was issued to Percy F. Edwards.

Esquimalt reported no activity during the week.

Sixteen residents of Clarence Street today petitioned the city for removal of large lindens on the boulevard in front of their properties.

An overhead power line of the B.C. Electric Railway streetcar service snapped at 5.30 Friday night at Johnson and Douglas, tying up trams on most lines for half an hour.

Letters are still being sent out by the working committee to former students of Victoria College and to others who knew and admired the late principal.

Entering the New Method Laundries Ltd., 1015 North Park Street, a thief or thieves escaped with $91.35 in cash Friday night.

The theft was reported by Mr. Hampton at 9.30 today. Detective G. Clavary investigated.

Mrs. L. McDonald, 919 Johnson, reported theft of $15 in cash from her suite. Mrs. E. Alexander, Se'kirk Lodge, reported a wallet stolen from her room. Theft of a car from the Gorge Hotel was reported by Thomas Alexander, 120 Regina.

Picking up a cigarette package thrown from an auto at Yates near Quadra Friday night, the seven-year-old son of Mrs. W. Austin, 1048 Johnson, found the package contained $50 in bills. The mother turned the package and money over to city police.

Mrs. E. Iredale complained of a prowler being around her house at 1862 Oak Bay Avenue at 2 in the morning.

Ward One, Liberal Association will hold an important meeting Monday night at 8 at Liberal headquarters.

$1,100 Contributed Towards Scholarship

Ready response to appeals for donations to create a scholarship fund as a lasting and living memorial to the late Prof. P. H. Elliott at Victoria College has resulted in collection of $1,100 to date, Jeffrey Cunningham, treasurer, reported today.

That sum represents contributions from 181 former students and friends in the last 10 days. It was reported a satisfactory start in a campaign to raise a substantial amount which will provide the type of memorial most suitable for the man who gave so much of his life to the welfare of the institution.

Letters are still being sent out by the working committee to former students of Victoria College and to others who knew and admired the late principal.

8th Army Units Nearing Ravenna; 5th Near Bologna

By LYNN HEINZLERING
ROME (AP) — British 8th
Army units burst through the rearguards of German parachute troops on the Adriatic sector today and occupied the coastal town of Cesenatico, 13 miles north of Rimini, and 18 miles from Ravenna, their next coastal objective.

New Zealand and Canadian troops northeast of the fortress town and highway centre of Cesenatico made similar swift advances. Cesenatico was occupied and Allied troops were clearing one last enemy pocket on the western outskirts of the town, which is 12 miles southeast of Forlì, boyhood home of Mussolini, on the Rimini-Bologna Road.

Considerable progress has been made by troops of the 8th Army in the Po Valley, north of the Rimini-Bologna Road, the Allied communiqué said.

DRIVE ON PLAINS
While successes on the Adriatic sector do not mean a breakthrough of the German line, the fact that New Zealand armor has been able to thrust a little further into the Po Valley raised the hope the 8th Army might yet be able to bring its superior armored forces to bear on the wide plains stretching ahead.

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER!

OUR BOYS OVERSEAS
WON'T STOP SLUGGING
UNTIL OUR ENEMIES
HOIST THE WHITE FLAG

AND WE TOO, MUST SEE IT THROUGH UNTIL THE FINISH

● Into the last few weeks—or months—of the crusade against the Nazis, our Canadian boys overseas are pouring every ounce of their strength. We, at home, in our daily tasks, can do no less.

Gallant fighting men of every historic Canadian regiment are slugging it out to Victory—slugging, slugging, ever deeper into German strongholds. But—until the white flag droops over blasted Berlin itself—not for one moment will they relax or slacken their efforts.

We, too, at home must see it through—to the finish.

And so, proudly and thankfully, Canadians everywhere welcome the opportunity presented by the new Victory Loan. For this, more than ever, is indeed a VICTORY Loan. More than ever—every last one of us will want to play our part in the triumph—will want, in our humble way, to keep slugging it out to the end.

Victory, indeed, is "everywhere"—and today's call to us is clear and strong. "One more bond than last time" is a fighting challenge which none of us can ignore.

Cary Grant Stars With Jean Arthur

Hailed as 1939's greatest screen adventure, "Only Angels Have Wings," opens Monday at the York Theatre, with Cary Grant and Jean Arthur costarred together for the first time. The Columbia film, produced and directed by Howard Hawks, also includes in its cast Thomas Mitchell, Rita Hayworth and Richard Barthelmess, who makes his first screen appearance after a three-year absence. "Only Angels Have Wings" is said to be a drama of romance and adventure in a small South American seaport.

Wild henequin fibre and wool, mixed, are used by Indians in Venezuela to make blankets.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

Lon Chaney owns the original idol of Karuna-Ana-Ana from which the larger shrine was made for the tropical island voodoo scenes in "Weird Woman." Universal mystery thriller now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.
The unusual image was given to the actor by an old native during a trip to the Caribbean
Islands 15 years ago.

In return, the screen star presented the grizzled native with a mechanical music box.

DOMINION THEATRE

"As a result of my many entertainment tours of training camps throughout the nation, and personal interviews with the men in uniform, I am convinced that the boys want musicals—films that entertain and give them the 'lift' they so greatly need to spur their morale. And when I say, 'Take It Or Leave It' is just the thing, I ain't being funny."

That's Phil Silvers, Hollywood's popular comedian who, with Phil
Baker, is featured in 20th Century-Fox's film version of the favorite air show of millions —
Baker's "Take It Or Leave It," the picture currently at the Dominion Theatre. Also featured in the cast are Edward Ryan, Marjorie Massow and Stanley Prager.

CAPITOL THEATRE

One of Los Angeles most interesting locations, the historic Bradbury Building, was transformed into an English hospital for M-G-M's "The White Cliffs of Dover," which stars Irene Dunne with Alan Marshal at the Capitol Theatre.

ATLAS THEATRE

Two romances, a serious one between George Murphy and Constance Moore and a comedy affair between Eddie Cantor and Joan Davis, motivate much of the gay action of "Show Business," Hollywood's newest tunefilm feature which is now at the Atlas
Theatre.

The four players are starred, along with Nancy Kelly, in the offering, which Cantor produced for RKO Radio.

The Broadway stage in the 20's is the setting for the song-studied picture, which is said to be one of the most entertaining films of the year.

RIO THEATRE

"Riding tests? They don't bother us none."

When the subject of riding tests arises, that is the quick response of Harry Sherman's Bar-20 cowboys, who appear in the new Hopalong Cassidy western drama, "Bar-20," at the Rio Theatre today through United Artists release.

The Screen Actors Guild requires that those members who are listed as cowboys demonstrate their ability to ride.

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

TWO HUMORS

THE POET WHO sang about this poor old earth having "to borrow its mirth, it hath sorrow enough of its own" would have mourned the passing of two humors who, in different spheres, contributed much to the gaiety of their respective nations.

One was Heath Robinson, famous English cartoonist, who died a few weeks ago in his native land. The other was Irvin S. Cobb, the American author.

Unlike other artists, Heath Robinson's drawings were not a thing of beauty, perhaps, but they certainly were a joy for ever. For he specialized in sketches of absurd and impossible contraptions at which readers of English magazines the world over have chuckled for nearly 40 years.

His gadgets and machines defy description, for they defied all the laws of gravity, centrifugal force, et al.

CRAZY PATTERN

A FEW MONTHS ago I wrote about a home-made hay rake I saw at Koksilah, which reminded me of a Heath Robinson invention.

As Time magazine said in recording his death, Robinson produced a mad catalogue of patched-over devices constructed with engineering principles as this:

"The strength of a piece of string, as of a chain, lies in its weak part, and surely it is wisdom to cut this out and tie in a stronger piece."

It was on that principle that he constructed the ridiculous machine featured in one of his cartoons at the time of the last war—and at whose recollection I can still laugh.

For it illustrated his original idea for warming Highlanders' exposed knees.

The invention boasted an endless conveyor, starting in mid-air and ending nowhere, and manipulated by a wheel in the very bowels of the machine.

To the belt was tied at intervals hot water bottles, hot bricks wrapped in flannel, warming pans, and all the other devices popular in non-centrally-heated Britain.

As a man cranked the wheel, a waiting regiment of kilted Highlanders stepped up one by one and stood for a moment while one or other of the heating devices was applied to the knees.

The warming pan—or whatever it was—then was taken on the belt to a platform on which was poised a kettle of boiling water.

And after being refilled, the gadget went on its way back, ready to warm the next pair of knees.

PATENT BABY WASHER
IN 1934 The Ideal Homes Exhibition in London made a feature of a Heath Robinson exhibit which caused a sensation in the streets.

The public laughed hilariously at his carefully-constructed, full-sized house, made on an absolutely crazy pattern, and fitted with his own improbable and ridiculous devices.

What mother wouldn't welcome a patent baby-washer, for instance?

Heath Robinson's was made of revolving stands, one for the baby, one for the soap, nailbrush and sponge.

And the baby was washed simply by revolving the stands in the opposite directions!

Another "convenience" was a bedroom, so rigged that the owner could descend through the floor at breakfast time on to a dining chair below.

While at the same time, the "machinery" removed the cover over the maternal eggs and bacon and took it up to the ceiling!

GRAVESIDE HUMOR
IRVIN COBB'S humor was of a different brand, full of gusty Americanisms, but with an appeal which transcended the bounds of his own country.

The funeral service, held at Paducah, Kentucky, on Oct. 7, was carried out according to his expressed wishes.

His ashes were laid to rest beneath a dogwood tree, brought from "the green McCracken County ridges" he loved so well.

All formal funeral rites were dispensed with and "no dismal note" was allowed to creep into the proceedings.

For he had asked that his "boyhood friends on the banks of the Ohio River keep the thing cheerful."

SPIRIT OF LAUGHTER
THE MARBLE BOX containing the ashes was carried by the friend whom Cobb had designated as a "dependable custodian of my mortal remains."

A Paducah attorney, whom Cobb chose as speaker for the occasion, "because he would be brief," paid simple tribute to his friend, and prayed that:

"God in his infinite goodness and mercy will send to America another such spirit of joy and laughter, so that there may again move among us one who is a master of the art of bringing smiles to saddened faces and joy to troubled hearts."

And a choir of more than a score of negro voices—assembled at Mr. Cobb's request by a family servant—sang "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and "Deep River."

The whole was the loser by the passing of these men, both of whom, in the words of Oliver Wendell Holmes:

"Never deemed it sin to gladden
This vale of sorrows with a wholesome laugh."

Radio

By MARGUERITE HANCOCK
Because there was no other actor who sounded more like a "mug" than Ed Gardner, he decided to give himself the job of "Archie" in "Duffy's Tavern."

People who know him declare there is very little difference between the Ed and the Archie of Duffy's although there's nothing dumb about Ed, for he is recognized as one of the cleverest directors in radio circles. He made his debut as an actor and turned to producing.

Other programs under his direction included the Ripley Show, Burns and Allen, and Rudy Vallee.

Paramount is producing a picture to be built around Duffy's Tavern and will star Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Dorothy Lamour, Betty Hutton, Yehudi Menuhin, besides Ed Gardner, Eddie Green and Charlie Cantor, the regulars of the program.

Morton Downey has taken up a new pursuit; he is designing ties for one of New York City's smart shops.

Five-year-old Sparky Fischman, mental marvel of the "Quiz Kids," decided to tell his playmates about Daniel and the feast of Belshazzar when the handwriting appeared on the wall. "And all of a sudden," said Sparky, "the hand began to write a message. And do you know what it wrote? It wrote: 'Minnie, Minnie, tuck up your chin!'"

As you probably know, the handwriting on the wall, according to the scriptures, is "Mene, mene, tekel, upharisn."
